

Northern Winter Workshops in South Africa Decolonising Gender and Sexuality

27 October 11am-1pm
Workshop with Jabu Pereira
Iranti-org Office
3rd Floor, 87 De Korte Str., Braamfontein
Johannesburg (SA)
Open to 10-15 people, please RSVP

This workshop engages developing an understanding of the body and the impact of coloniality on autonomy and freedoms. Exploring the works of several artists and working with some key texts on decolonization this workshop will examine bodily diversities and identities and breaking the oppression of the State, Religious groups and Cultural norms and practice.

This event is part of the Northern Winter Workshops, a collective project that brings together art practitioners and cultural workers based in South Africa, the Netherlands, and the United Kingdom around questions of decolonisation, art, and social justice. More details on the Northern Winter Workshops can be found on www.SSS-NWW.org.

The event is open to all who are interested to join but has a limited capacity of 10-15 participants; please RSVP via rsvp@SSS-NWW.org.

We are very much looking forward to seeing you on 27 October!
